

ABSTRACT

Antoso, Moh. (2015). Level of religiousness correlation with discipline employees work in Yayasan Yatim Mandiri The Branch of Surabaya.

This research aims to understand the level of religiousness correlation with discipline of work on employees Yayasan Yatim Mandiri The Branch of Surabaya. Hypothesis proposed is there any correlation between the level of religiousness with discipline of work on employees Yayasan Yatim Mandiri the branch of surabaya . Methods used is quantitative research method with the kind of research correlation (relations). The sampling method used saturated sampling technique, specifically all the population of 35 people. Techniques in data analysis used in this research is the analysis of Spearman correlation test with SPSS version 16.0. Techniques in data analysis used in this research is the analysis of Spearman correlation test with SPSS version 16.0.

The results of testing in the statistical analysis spearman correlation that there is a positive relationship between a significant religiousness work with discipline , with 0,428 correlation value , the value of siginificantion $0.01 < 0.05$ and H_a accepted .Conclusion in this research, there are correlation of a significant positive between religiousness with discipline on employees work in Yayasan Yatim Mandiri Surabaya Branch.

Key words: Work Discipline , Religiousness