1.1. Background of study

The term family values consist of two words, “family” and “value”, According to the Oxford Dictionary definition, a family is a group of human being, which is consist of one or two parents with their child or children and close relations (2008,160). And value is standard or quality considering of being useful, meaningful, or important (2008, 490). Another definition family values are values especially of a traditional or conservative kind which are held to promote the sound functioning of the family and to strengthen the fabric of society (Meriam-Webster, 2018)

[illegible]

The reason the researcher wants to write this research is to describe the family values in portrayed Johanna Spyri' Heidi. This research is using an intrinsic element from in the part of the new criticism theory: Character and Characterization, which is pointed to the main Character, Heidi. thus, the writer discovers the points of family values that portrayed in story and the writer takes explanation the effect of Family toward Heidi personality, furthermore, the writer found the influence the family values on Heidi personality such as: Religious, caring to each

In this part writer only focus and revealing with researching and studying

2.1.1. New Criticism

According to a term of David Mikics (2007, 203) in A New Handbook of

One of the vital point also important of the literary work is Plot, especially in any Fiction. The Plot is just like the story is rolling on, and some of author is impossible to leave or lose it. According to Klarer (1999, 15), plot is the logical interaction of the various thematic elements of a text which change of the original situation(s) as presented at the beginning of the narrative.

Following the rules of plot, only two variations of Plot (Klarer, 1999, p.15-14): (1) Traditional role play and (2) Flashback role play. The Traditional plot encompasses in four sequential events: (a) the exposition or introduction of story, (b) Complication, the beginning of appearing of the problem and conflict in Story, (c) Climax or Returning Point, and the last is (d) Resolution, which this point work in resolving the problem and conflict and ending of conflict. Whereas the Flashback plot is foreshadowing introduce information cornering the past or future into narrative, eventhood-in many cases-the stories has Linear Plots.

Characters are the life point of literature; they are the objects of reader curiosity and fascination, affection and dislike, admiration, and condemnation. Indeed, the reader often called by ‘objects’ (Bennett and Royle, 2004, p.60). Ac-

Base the statement above, the character is imaginative of an object in the form of person who inhabits in the story. The Character also imaginary of the author itself, so, Characterization as the point of development of the Story. Another function of Character is not only as of the object of the reader or as the main of story player, but also as the media introduction to the theme, idea, and plot.

According to explanation before, the family values is the moral and ethical principle traditionally that related to the family's construction, functional, roles, rules, belief, attitudes, and ideas. As like the name, values of the family have many of perception version in Socio Scientist or Socio Researcher. According to Kathy Slattengren in Priceless parentthing.com (2019), there are fourteen points or values in her opinion article that provide to readers: Acceptance, Com-

The reason for the writer is to put this value in the first stage is reasonable because each member of the family that they loved, so they feel they belong too. It can make a family tie stronger and bonding. Being an interconnected family could mean that we be able to spend every time or every spare minute together doing a family activity but keep in mind that everyone is different. Creating a strong family is from activity that explores in allowed the space and freedom by a family member that they think they may appreciate or enjoy. Every people wondering and willing the save place to come back to when things don't quite work out, and the final solution is the family support needed.

Equivalent feeling, the ability to reach out and understand someone else on her or his own terms (Greer & Kohl, 1952). Through the kindness such as empathy, we build empathy since we tend to think more about what people want or need. Being generous doesn't mean simply handing over money to someone in need. It can also include giving your time, love, attention or even some of your possessions.

According to Greer & Kohl in A Call to Character (1995, 157) Generosity is an open and giving attitude toward others is one of the gifts of childhood. Children have a natural curiosity. If you've ever watched a toddler even for a couple of minutes you'd see that quality shine through. For some that interest diminishes. The writer perceives it's imperative to encourage and push our kids and even ourselves to be curious about things.

A failure to communicate will like going to unhappiness and misunderstandings. Small issues grow into larger ones, and when they eventually sore to the surface it's unlikely they will have solved calmly. Communication is a lot more than basically speaking the somebody mind. In addition to spoken words, it also extends to tone, volume, expression, eye contact, body language, and pay at-

Responsibility is a state in which an individual perceives her/his own moral obligation or duty as less than usual because it is shared by a group of people. We'd all like to be considered responsible people, which according to David Matsumoto in The Cambridge Dictionary of Psychology (2009, 44). Some of us are, and some of us are decidedly less so. Responsibility is something that learn. As a child, you may have shown how to put your toys away after playing, how to tidy your room, or how and when to feed the dog. This sense of responsibility extends well into adulthood. An adult who has an intrinsic logic of accountability doesn't require a lot of prodding to show up to work on time, return phone calls, or meet deadlines. Setting out individual responsibilities for family members works to instill this quality in everyone.

The tradition is activity that handing down from generation to generation, and something, custom, or thought process that is passed over time (Graburn. 2001, 6) Doing some Traditions don't need to be expensive, elaborate, or a lot of work. It can be something as simple as a lazy Saturday morning drinking coffee and chatting or an annual fondue dinner to ring in the new year. If you don't currently have traditions in your family, create them.

er of her eyes, she is blind. When Heidi moving to Frankfurt for study, she meets a new family or her step Family, the family Sesemann, she has Clara Sesemann as her new friend—the Daughter of Mr. Sesemann, the owner of Sesemann family's house—and Mrs. Sesemann as the Grandmama among Clara and Heidi. When she stays in short time on the Sesemann family house, she cannot to read well, fortunately she has grandmama who has ready to learn something in any time. Heidi found a large book on her plate after finishing her Supper, it has well-favored portrait on it, she saw the old lady nod picture on cover of book.

At supper Heidi found the large book with the beautiful pictures on her plate, and looking doubtfully at grandmama, she saw the old lady nod. "Now it belongs to you, Heidi," she said. "Forever? Also when I am going home?" Heidi inquired, confused with joy. "Certainly, forever!" the grandmama assured her. "Tomorrow we shall begin To read it."

"But Heidi, you must not go home; no, not for many years," Clara exclaimed, "especially when grandmama goes away. You must stay with me." (1919, 83)

The quotation above explain that Heidi got attention from grandmama or Mrs. Sesemann and her friend Sesemann, Clara. She is spending her time for reading after she be able to read with Clara. Until once day, Grand mama give her book to Heidi and Clara also countenance indirectly what Grand mama doing. Grand mama and Clara want Heidi to stay because them hopefully she become the part of the Sesemann' family and become Clara' best friend. Along her life, Clara has no friend in her house.

Clara assented, and Heidi began. But she did not get very far, for the story she was reading told of a grandmother's death. Suddenly she cried aloud: "Oh, now grandmother is dead!" and wept in the most pitiful fashion. Whatever Heidi read always seemed real to her, and now she thought it was her own grandmother at home. Louder and louder she sobbed: "Now poor grandmother is dead and I can never see her anymore; and she never got one single roll!" Clara attempted to explain the mistake, but Heidi was too much upset. She pictured to herself how terrible it would be if her dear old grandfather would die too while she was far away. How quiet and empty it would be in the hut, and how lonely she would be! (1919, 89)

Based on the quotation above explain the empathy of Heidi to Grandmother. She never expected what just happen to her Grandmother. Not only Grandmother has leaving from her life, but also, she has leave from her lovely granddaughter life forever. After hearing the tidings about grandmother dead, she feels upset and want to cry and sober a lot, she doesn't belief what just happen to her lovely grandmother. She wants some rolls of cake to grandmother, but the Almighty God have call her soon.

3.1.2. Respect

Respect. Everyone understood how to say it but sometime still difficult to do it. From the respect attitude, family will be loved by all family member and all mankind. Not only loved by all family member, but also make peace and calm atmosphere in the house the value of respect shines through the habits of his family and his grandfather's family, which can influence Heidi's habit of being respectful to anyone. for example, when Heidi asked about the room he would occupy, whether he could occupy the room he wanted or not. grandfather-alp firmly answered Heidi's question with the word "yes" and Heidi agreed. and at that moment, grandfather ordered Heidi to eat his dinner.

Heidi obeyed and returned instantly. The grandfather milked a full bowl from the white goat, cut a piece of bread for the child, and told her to eat. "Afterwards you can go to bed. If you need some shirts and other linen, you will find them in the bottom of the cupboard. Aunt Deta has left a bundle for you. Now goodnight, I have to look after the goats and lock them up for the night." (1919, 43)

The housekeeper soon found that she had to respect the grandmother's ways and opinions. Mrs. Sesemann always knew what was going on in the house the minute she entered it. On the following afternoon Clara was resting and the old lady had shut her eyes for five minutes, when she got up again and went into the dining-room. With a suspicion that the housekeeper was probably asleep, she went to this lady's room, knocking loudly on the door. After a while somebody stirred inside, and with a bewildered face Miss Rottenmeier appeared, staring at the unexpected visitor. (1919, 81)

According to quotation above, Miss Rottenmeier is the housekeeper of Sesemann family. She is handle everything about owner needs. Mrs. Sesemann or called “Grandmama” by Heidi and Clara, know well what has happen on in the house. Mrs.Sesemann want to meet Heidi. grand mama knows well Heidi reading ability is still low, and grand mama want to give a time for Heidi to study together. Miss Rottenmeier obey to any her owner command.

"Rottenmeier, where is the child? How does she pass her time? I want to know," said Mrs. Sesemann.

"She just sits in her room, not moving a finger; she has not the slightest desire to do something useful, and that is why she thinks of such absurd things that one can hardly mention them in polite society."

"I should do exactly the same thing, if I were left alone like that. Please bring her to my room now, I want to show her some pretty books I have brought with me."

"That is just the trouble. What should she do with books? In all this time she has not even learned the A, B, C for it is impossible to instill any knowledge into this being. If Mr. Candidate was not as patient as an angel, he would have given up teaching her long ago."

"How strange! The child does not look to me like one who cannot learn the A, B, C," said Mrs. Sesemann. "Please fetch her now; we can look at the pictures anyway."

The housekeeper was going to say more, but the old lady had turned already and gone to her room. She was thinking over what she had heard about Heidi, making up her mind to look into the matter. (1919, 81-82)

Based on quotation above which related to quotation and explanation before, writer explaining about communication between Miss Rottenmeier and Mrs.

Through Kindness we can construct empathy since we have a habit of to think about helping a people and think more about what people desire or needed something. Empathy towards the environment or living creatures is an example of a little girl like Heidi her goodness came from an environment that made Heidi comfortable and safe. Researcher found an interesting moment in the story that authored by Johanna Spyri. When Heidi first met her biological grandfather, the name is Grandfather Alp, Because the name got from where he is lived, he lived in mountain Alp. After she was left by her parents because they died and brought to her grandfather who was escorted by her aunt, Dette to be cared for by her grandfather, then finally, she met her grandfather. Initially, Heidi's grandfather did not want to take care of Heidi because she was a child and it was feared that would be able to disrupt his work as a goat with Heidi's cousin, Peter. Over the time, gradually her grandfather understood the attitude of his granddaughter, Heidi, that she was a kind-hearted and compassionate child to anyone including her own grandfather. On quotation Heidi shows her Empathy to everything even is an Animal as like goat. It called snowhopper, because of it a tiny, and it has white hair that covered it body and this goat really like jumping when Peter place it in the greenfield.

"He well deserves it," snarled Peter, ready to strike. But Heidi, seizing his arm, shouted, full of indignation: "You mustn't hurt him! Let him go!" Heidi's eyes were sparkling, and when he saw her with her commanding mien, he desisted and dropped his rope. "I'll let him go, if you give me a piece of your cheese again to-morrow," he said, for he wanted a compensation for his fright. "You may have it all to-morrow and every day, because I don't need it," Heidi assured him. "I shall also give you a big piece of bread, if you promise never to beat any of the goats." (1919, 39-40)

The grandmother, in her joy at seeing the child again, had stopped the wheel and called: "Here is the child again! She has come again!" Heidi, grasping her outstretched hands, sat herself on a low stool at the old woman's feet and began to chat. Suddenly violent blows were heard outside; the grandmother in her fright nearly upset the spinning-wheel and screamed: "Oh, God, it has come at last. The hut is tumbling down!"

"Grandmother, don't be frightened," said the child, while she put her arms around her. "Grandfather is just fastening the shutter and fixing everything for you."

"Is it possible? Has God not forgotten us after all? Brigida, have you heard it?"

Brigida obeyed, for the uncle had a way that nobody could oppose.

"Heidi, don't cry any more," Clara begged. "Listen! When you go home some day, I am going to give you as many rolls as you had, and more. They will be much softer and better than those stale ones you have kept. Those were not fit to eat, Heidi. Stop now, please, and don't cry anymore!" (1919, 76)

Based on quotation above, Heidi shown her kindness to grandmother by given her some rolls of her bread that she got from her double breakfast. When Heidi want to change her cloth, Miss Rottenmeier found unexpected thing; A pile of bread. Heidi want to give her Grandmother something when she back home, a big pile bread, which is taken from ration breakfast. She wants to keep all of bread which belonging by her however Miss Rottenmeier taken away and may throw it all roll bread. Clara respond the problem of Heidi, she reassures Heidi with her promise, she will change all of beard with the new one when Heidi get her coming back home time.

3.1.4. Desire for knowledge

Through interesting knowledge and experience will add insight into the child. Heidi grew with her vast knowledge through a pile of questions in her mind. Whatever makes him curious, she will always have looked for the answer and in the end, be understood and know behind an event, even though the answer comes from a small question like the name of the animal and why he has that name, where the animal will go and so on. there was a moment where she could not understand something even confused him, like the words of a metaphor shown on an object said by his grandfather aimed at entertaining her granddaughter, Heidi. In this point writer focused on the main character, Heidi, because she is dominating on the story and she is 9 years old, its mean she still lacks any knowledge.

The child, feeling free and comfortable, started to converse with Peter, and he had to answer many questions. She asked him how many goats he had, and where he led them, what he did with them when he got there, and so forth. (1919, 21)

According to quotation above, Heidi never going out before when she taken care by Aunt Dette while she in 5 years-old. When arrived on her grandfather-Alp village, she excited and feel cozy on atmosphere of the village. With her curiosity, Heidi asked how many her grandfather's goats he had and so on.

"Good-night, grandfather! Oh, please tell me what their names are," called Heidi after him.

"The white one's name is Schwänli and the brown one I call Bärli," was his answer. "Good-night, Schwänli! Good-night, Bärli," the little girl called loudly, for they were just disappearing in the shed. Heidi now sat down on the bench and took her supper. (1919, 43-44)

Same as normally curious child, Heidi asking everything on a thing what she did not understand however just a Name. grandpa understand she still on 9 years old, so, grandfather directly answer the names lambs that chosen and directed by Heidi.

Just then Heidi came running in. "Grandfather, can the sun still laugh at me?" she asked. The child had rubbed herself so violently with the coarse towel which the grandfather had put beside the tub that her face, neck and arms were as red as a lobster. With a smile the grandfather said: "No, he can't laugh any more now; but when you come home to-night you must go into the tub like a fish. When one goes about like the goats, one gets dirty feet. Be off!" (1919, 34-35)

Just like most of child that misunderstanding about metaphors as the joke, Heidi keep asking why the Sun can give a smile to her and how to smile or laugh, sometime rubbed her head with amazed. So, grandfather explain that the Sun will not smile or laugh, and grandpa order Heidi to washing her face.

Suddenly she heard a loud, sharp scream, and looking up she beheld the largest bird she had ever seen, flying above her. With outspread wings he flew in large circles over Heidi's head.

"Wake up, Peter!" Heidi called. "Look up, Peter, and see the eagle there!"

Peter got wide awake, and then they both watched the bird breathlessly. It rose higher and higher into the azure, till it disappeared at last behind the mountain peak.

"Where has it gone?" Heidi asked.

"Home to its nest," was Peter's answer.

"Oh, does it really live way up there? How wonderful that must be! But tell me why it screams so loud?" Heidi inquired.

"Because it has to," Peter replied.

"Oh, let's climb up there and see its nest!" implored Heidi, but Peter, expressing decided disapproval in his voice, answered: "Oh dear, Oh dear, not even goats could climb up there! Grandfather has told me not to let you fall down the rocks, so we can't go!" (1919, 35-36)

Heidi enjoyed the nature by lying on the rug of earth, Grass. She looks the beautiful landscape of mountain and the hill on village, and finally, suddenly she saw the largest bird that ever seen, an eagle, which flying above the skies and cross above her. She looks with excitement until she wants to know where it going to peter.

3.1.5. Communication

Understanding each other between family members is through communication. communication is a bridge to happiness, harmony between family members, providing peace, mutual understanding of the situation of family members, and so on. building good communication will have a positive impact on a family and also create a comfortable and peaceful atmosphere for the family. the way of good communication is not only from verbal or speaking but also followed by gestures, eye contact, emotional, good understanding and effective. Good communication is reflected in the family of his grandfather Heidi, which is contained in a quote from a conversation between Grandpa-alp and his granddaughter, Heidi.

She was therefore delighted to find herself in her new home and hardly could wait to see the goats again. Jumping out of bed, she put on her few things and in a short time went down the ladder and ran outside. Peter was already there with his flock, waiting for Schwänli and Bärli, whom the grandfather was just bringing to join the other goats.

"Do you want to go with him to the pasture?" asked the grandfather.

"Yes," cried Heidi, clapping her hands.

"Go now, and wash yourself first, for the sun will laugh at you if he sees how dirty you are. Everything is ready there for you," he added, pointing to a large tub of water that stood in the sun. Heidi did as she was told, and washed and rubbed herself till her cheeks were glowing. (1919, 34)

Based on quotation above, Grandfather instructed Heidi to hurry up to went to pastor on that day, grandpa also ordered it with little metaphor that sun will laugh to Heidi when she is didn't took bath. Because of that, Heidi feel happy on her grandfather and feel safe while beside him.

While the women were talking, Heidi had been taking in everything. Then she said: "Grandmother, look at the shutter over there. It is hanging loose. If grandfather were here, he would fasten it. It will break the window-pane! Just look at it."

Heidi was still standing on the same spot. Clara had watched the scene, and called to the child now to come to her. Heidi approached the rolling-chair.

"Do you want to be called Heidi or Adelheid?" asked Clara.

"My name is Heidi and nothing else," was the child's answer.

"I'll call you Heidi then, for I like it very much," said Clara. "I have never heard the name before. What curly hair you have! Was it always like that?"

"I think so."

"Did you like to come to Frankfurt?" asked Clara again.

"Oh, no, but then I am going home again to-morrow, and shall bring grandmother some soft white rolls," Heidi explained.

"What a curious child you are," said Clara. "You have come to Frankfurt to stay with me, don't you know that? We shall have our lessons together, and I think it will be great fun when you learn to read". (1919, 60) for her Grandmother such as soft white rolls, but Heidi must stay on Clara's home according to Clara Statement for studying and learn to read together and will be fun.

[illegible]

3.1.6. Responsibility

Every action has a responsibility, whether small or large in its actions. planting and teaching the best attitude of responsibility is through setting good examples for children or other family members. the value of responsibility can be seen from the statement below. in the quote the attitude of responsibility is shown to Miss Rotenmeier. he was responsible for his duties as head of the household when the owner of the house like Mr. Sesemann and Mrs. Sesemann or called Granmama was away somewhere for a long time. Miss Rotenmeire not only takes

Every action has a responsibility, whether small or large in its actions. planting and teaching the best attitude of responsibility is through setting good examples for children or other family members. the value of responsibility can be seen from the statement below. in the quote the attitude of responsibility is shown to Miss Rotenmeier. he was responsible for his duties as head of the household when the owner of the house like Mr. Sesemann and Mrs. Sesemann or called Granmama was away somewhere for a long time. Miss Rotenmeire not only takes care of the house but she also takes care and takes care of her daughter mr. Sesemann, Clara Sesemann and Heidi, one of them is their educational needs. with a teacher like Mr. candidates facilitate their learning process.

The tutor had arrived in the meantime, but he was not asked to go to the study as usual. Miss Rottenmeier was very much excited about Heidi's coming and all the complications that arose therefrom. She was really responsible for it, having arranged everything herself. She presented the unfortunate case before the teacher, for she wanted him to help her to get rid of the child. Mr. Candidate, however, was always careful of his judgments, and not afraid of teaching beginners. (1919, 65)

As the housekeeper of Mr. Sesemann family, Miss Rottenmeier holding all of needs of education of Clara and Heidi by presenting a tutor in every morning, his is Mr. Candidate. Not only presenting and bring it in tutor for Mr. Sesemann Daughter; Clara Sesemann and Heidi, but also, she truly selecting the real tutor for high-end family, because she is worry about first time-learner or beginner teacher that in causing effect of learning quality and quality of material.

"I am glad I am not the child!" exclaimed Barbara with a shudder. "Nobody knows anything about the old man's life up there. He doesn't speak to a living soul, and from one year's end to the other he keeps away from church. People get out of his way when he appears once in a twelve-month down here among us. We all fear him and he is really just like a heathen or an old Indian, with those thick grey eyebrows and that huge uncanny beard. When he wanders along the road with his twisted stick we are all afraid to meet him alone."

"That is not my fault," said Deta stubbornly. "He won't do her any harm; and if he should, he is responsible, not I."

"I wish I knew what weighs on the old man's conscience. Why are his eyes so fierce and why does he live up there all alone? Nobody ever sees him and we hear many strange things about him. Didn't your sister tell you anything, Deta?"

"Of course she did, but I shall hold my tongue. He would make me pay for it if I didn't."

According to quotation above which explain about the next Heidi caregiver. The next Heidi caregiver is her Grandfather; uncle Alp. Deta as the close relationship as her aunty of Heidi cannot takes care of Heidi because she is go to work in Frankfurt. The better way is put Heidi in her Grandfather for taking care of Heidi, but, unfortunately, he got bad viewpoint from villager perception, because in the tradition of the family not only do special activities even somewhat increase spending costs, be it as little or a lot or even a massive amount in spare time. but also do simple activities and will become a habitual activity in the household. such as: reciting prayer before activities like eating, working, sleeping, admiring something beautiful and other positive activities. In the quotation below, the researcher shows that there is a tradition carried out by the Sesemann family which will affect Heidi's habits in her daily life. on quotation explains Heidi is sad because the god has not answered her prayer, then Mrs. Sesemann reminded Heidi to keep on praying even though he did it every day for weeks.

"Because I have prayed for the same thing many, many weeks and God has not done what I have asked Him to." (1919, 86-87)

"That is not the way, Heidi. You see, God in heaven is a good Father to all of us, who knows what we need better than we do. When something we ask for is not very good for us, He gives us something much better, if we confide in Him and do not lose confidence in His love. I am sure what you asked for was not very good for you just now; He has heard you, for He can hear the prayers of all the people in the world at the same time, because He is God Almighty and not a mortal like us. He heard your prayers and said to Himself: 'Yes, Heidi shall get what she is praying for in time.' Now, while God was looking down on you to hear your prayers, you lost confidence and went away from Him. If God does not hear your prayers any more, He will forget you also and let you go. Don't you want to go back to Him, Heidi, and ask His forgiveness? Pray to Him every day, and hope in Him, that He may bring cheer and happiness to you." (1919, 87)

"That's right, Heidi; I am sure He will help you in time, if you only trust in Him," the grandmother consoled her. Heidi went to her room now and prayed earnestly to God that He would forgive her and fulfill her wish. (1919,87)

In every activity or every action has an impact or effect on the own Personality' personal, in good side effect—the mean is positive—or got the bad—get negative—one. In this research, writer provide the effect of family value on Heidi's personal. Every value of family on the previous explanation it has some effects of personality on main character, Heidi. In this part writer want to show the effect of family values toward Heidi personality in every value of family.

Heidi is a child who has a great curious about what she just knew found out, she admired something she had never known before. As in the quotation below, the quotation below explained that Heidi showed inquisitiveness that was overwhelmed with high curiosity, and admired what she had just met like admiring the view of the atmosphere in her grandfather village who lived in the Alp.

On the quotation above, Heidi showing her excitement about being sheep keeper with grandfather and peter. She also feels amazing of her experience in grandpa village with drink the fresh milk direct from goat, so, this the reason why

About a week later, Mr. Candidate asked to see Mrs. Sesemann, to tell her of something unusual that had occurred. Being called to the lady's room, he began: "Mrs. Sesemann, something has happened that I never expected," and with many more words the happy grandmama was told that Heidi had suddenly learned to read with the utmost correctness, most rare with beginners. "Many strange things happen in this world," Mrs. Sesemann remarked, while they went over to the study to witness Heidi's new accomplishment. Heidi was sitting close to Clara, reading her a story; she seemed amazed at the strange, new world that had opened up before her. (1919, 84-85)

Seem like analyzing before on discussing the point of desire of knowledge, Heidi showing up the cheerful personality when meet the new and beautiful thing based on quotation above. Heidi pick some of flower and bring it use her apron and shook them out of her apron. She did not think how miserable her look like.

Just like normally child, Heidi like imagine something. She imagines the lamb; the little snowhopper look like happy and she also imagine a glowing mountain with many glistering roses blooming around her. Imaginative personality also perspective from desire of knowledge value.

In everyday, Heidi always maintains her temporary religious family tradition, in going whatever she did and got from her temporary family, from breakfast, before going to bed, and all her routines such as studying. Based on the quo-on the following explanation to quotation above that Heidi got her trust on God after listen some advices from grandmother Sesemann, she will keep pray to him and never lose again to Her God and she feel happy during deliver her wish to the God, thus, she hopefully He want to forgive her mistake that what she have she done, and she still remember when she angry when her prays never got any answers and results. And grandmamma makes the Heidi's trust stronger if she kept trusting Him in anytime and anywhere and she will have got some help whatever she wanted. From this point Heidi shown the positive effect from tradition in this story and also make Heidi became the religious personal.

"Yes, of course," was the reply, and with this Heidi ran to her room. Sitting down on a stool she folded her hands and poured out her heart to God, imploring Him to help her and let her go home to her grandfather. (1919,84)

[illegible]

Based on quotation above, Heidi have learned everything after she studied anything and stayed in Clara Sesemann' house. Heidi believes on God and every thing will happen with God destiny. She has already trust to God since she learned from Grandmama Sesemann. "Don't you want to go back to Him, Heidi, and ask His forgiveness? Pray to Him every day, and hope in Him, that He may bring cheer and happiness to you." (1919,87), said Grandmama to Heidi, thus, she will pray every day and every moment such as while she is going home and arrival to her lovely place and she will say thanks to God.

"Because they know that God in heaven looks after us mortals and we never need to fear. See, they twinkle and show us how to be merry, too. But Clara, we must not forget to pray to God and ask Him to think of us and keep us safe."

Sitting up in bed, they then said their evening prayer. As soon as Heidi lay down, she fell asleep. But Clara could not sleep quite yet, it was too wonderful to see the stars from her bed. (1919,151-152)

Based on quotation above, Heidi get her trust to God one more time while she is lying on field of grass with her best friend, Clara Sesemann, "Because they know that God in heaven looks after us mortals and we never need to fear. See, they twinkle and show us how to be merry, too. But Clara, we must not forget to pray to God and ask Him to think of us and keep us safe." (1919,152) Comments Heidi to Clara, she hopefully God remember and keep them in peaceful and save.

3.2.3. Heidi's Sense of Belonging Makes her Caring to Everyone

Heidi is a child who has a personality who cares about his family member, both in the Sesemann family and his grandfather's. Heidi cared about her family, because they had taught and set a good example in addition it had an influence on Heidi's personality who loved her family so far. She wanted to give something to someone who she loved, such as when she saw the condition of her blind grandmother who was eating a piece of bread whose condition was not suitable for daily consumption. In the quotation below the searcher points out the caring characteristic of Heidi towards her grandmother and she want to give some rolls of bread which got from rations more than her breakfast for her beloved grand mother

Only after a long, long time did Heidi become quiet. When she had heard Clara's promise, she cried: "Are you really going to give me as many as I had?"

At supper, Heidi's eyes were swollen and it was still hard for her to keep from crying. Sebastian made strange signs to her that she did not understand. What did he mean?

Later, though, when she climbed into her high bed, she found her old beloved straw hat hidden under her cover. So Sebastian had saved it for her and had tried to tell her! She crushed it for joy, and wrapping it in a handkerchief, she hid it in the furthest corner of her wardrobe. (1919,76)

Sometime, an attitude of children is misunderstood and unpredicted. Everything that belonging to Heidi, hopefully come back to her. Thanks to Sebastian, which is saved her old beloved straw hat that put by him underneath the bed cover, and directly safe by Heidi in the front corner of her cupboard. Every kid has right to defense their own goods, with little reasonable mater for her goods, Heidi can get her old beloved hat back

Heidi turned pale at that, for the book was her greatest treasure. Quickly drying her tears, she choked down her sobs. After that Heidi never cried again; often she could hardly repress her sobs and was obliged to make the strangest faces to keep herself from crying out. Clara often looked at her, full of surprise, but Miss Rottenmeier did not notice them and found no occasion to carry out her threat. However, the poor child got more cheerless every day, and looked so thin and pale that Sebastian became worried. He tried to encourage her at table to help herself to all the good dishes, but listlessly she would let them pass and hardly touch them. In the evening she would cry quietly, her heart bursting with longing to go home. (1919,88)

Unfortunately, Heidi showing the negative effect from sense of belonging' value on quotation above. Heidi keep crying in all day long because she feels upset and miss to home back to meet all of family member on village. On this quotation Heidi figure a temporary contradictive personality with showing the disappointment, she no longer feel comforts with sense of Mr.Sesemann family, she keep cried and sobbed in her room because really want to going home soon, but,

Heidi is a child who likes to smile at anyone, which makes someone like her grandfather understand the goodness of this 9-years-old child. She was surrounded by good peoples and it encouraged her to be a good kid. In Heidi life, her kindness was formed from the kindness of the Heidi families, like when she lived with Sesmann family and her grandfather's family who lived in the mountainous area where her grandmother was stayed with whit peter and his mother, Brigida who took care of Grandma every day. Heidi wants to share her smiles of happiness with someone like her beloved grandmother, even though she was unable to see because of blindness. Her goodness is illustrated in the quotation below, which Heidi wants to make someone about her kindness.

Based on quotation above, grandmother is disable elder that want an attention from someone and could be comfort her, so, she finally met with 9-years-old kid, Heidi. Heidi want to make a promise for grandmother to her came back vision well however grandmother cannot be seeing anymore. Heidi keep smile to persuade her that she will see again, and grandfather makes such as lantern so that

From quotation above, Heidi as full of cheerful personal, its look like never end of happiness, which can forget a loneliness and become an orphan child. All day long full of excitement every visiting the hill of village. In her life, she never felt sad because she hoped for the next following day is great and a nice day. From this point, Heidi teach us about happiness which is come from any sources but not at all of it.

According to quotation above, Heidi feels pity about grandmother's conditions. So, she cries and want to do something but nothing else to help the vision'

The grandmother remained silent, not to mar the happiness of the child. (1919,107-108)

On quotation above, writer catch a moment of grandmother expression while Heidi gives the rolls of cakes, she is silent and accept the gift from her granddaughter. Heidi also want her to enjoy the fresh rolls of cakes every day. And expectantly grandmother can restore well her vision and become strong and healthy well. And Heidi also entertain her grandmother by read or sing a song from book, she got it from grandmother book shelf. The book is dusty, old, and never touched from anyone. Heidi want to give all ability to entertain her lovely grandmother, and she understood no one can entertain the grandmother.

After she had carefully wiped it off, she sat down on a stool.

"Whatever you want to," was the reply. Turning the pages, Heidi found a song about the sun, and decided to read that aloud. More and more eagerly she read, while the grandmother, with folded arms, sat in her chair. An expression of indescribable happiness shone in her countenance, though tears were rolling down her cheeks. When Heidi had repeated the end of the song a number of times, the old woman exclaimed: "Oh, Heidi, everything seems bright to me again and my heart is light. Thank you, child, you have done me so much good." Heidi looked enraptured at the grandmother's face, which had changed from an old, sorrowful expression to a joyous one. She seemed to look up gratefully, as if she could already behold the lovely, celestial gardens told of in the hymn. (1919,108)

Heidi also became very fond of the old grandmother, and when the weather was fair, she visited her every day that winter. Whenever the child remembered that the grandmother was blind, she would get very sad; her only comfort was that her coming brought such happiness. The grandfather soon had mended the cottage; often he would take down big loads of timber, which he used to good purpose. The grandmother vowed that no rattling could be heard any more, and that, thanks to the uncle's kindness, she slept better that winter than she had done for many a year. (1919, 50)

[illegible]

In every place and time, Heidi always keep her respect attitude to everyone, especially to older person like her beloved grandmother. On quotation below, writer of research explains on respect attitude's Heidi while she visits to peter's hut. She has learned a respect attitude from Sesemann family and follow their activities such as while take a breakfast, studying with Clara and sometime learned by Mrs. Sesemann, until while want to take a bed.

According to quotation above, Heidi expressing her respect by siting herself on her grandmother knees and she hug her with love expression. Her grandmother surprise on Heidi attitude because she did not meet Heidi for long time and she feels happy with sparkling her eyes and dropping some tears on Heidi's hand when meet again with her beloved granddaughter. She remembers how Heidi care with her while Heidi visit in the first time with her grandfather. She keeps touch and mourning Heidi's Hairs to remembering and ensure Heidi appearance even though she lost her vision And Heidi also feels happy when she able to visit her grandmother peacefully.

Heidi was awakened early next morning by a loud whistle. Opening her eyes, she saw her little bed and the hay beside her bathed in golden sunlight. For a short while she did not know where she was, but when she heard her grandfather's deep voice outside, she recollected everything. She remembered how she had come up the mountain the day before and left old Ursula, who was always shivering with cold and sat near the stove all day. While Heidi lived with Ursula, she had always been obliged to keep in the house, where the old woman could see her. Being deaf, Ursula was afraid to let Heidi go outdoors, and the child had often fretted in the narrow room and had longed to run outside. (1919, 34)

Explanation on following quotation above, Heidi is the proof that Heidi is the respectful kid, before her mom passed away, she lived with her mom, Ursula. When she was young her mommy always orders her to stay in the home and she obeyed the instruction from her mommy. Her mommy is deaf, so, she afraid if Heidi go outside without notice her. And finally, sometime, she was disappointed of her mommy advise because she never go outside from her house or her room. When her aunt Dette pick up her to grandfather, she can go outside from her house after her mother passed away and her aunty worried about condition of her Niece which didn't take care well by her mother, so that why her aunty deliver her to her grandfather where live in village beside of mountain Alp.

That tempted Heidi, and she came running to Peter, with her apron full of flowers. "You have enough now," he declared. "If you pick them all to-day, there won't be any left to-morrow." Heidi admitted that, besides which she had her apron already full. From now on she stayed at Peter's side. The goats, scenting the pungent herbs, also hurried up without delay (1919, 34)
